

Leipzig University

Number of students (acceptable to the program)	4
Eligibility	Students in at least the second semester of the second year of their bachelor's program, and students enrolled in a graduate program
Period of study	October - February and/or April - August
Location	Grimmaische Straße 12, 04109 Leipzig, Germany
University profile	A tradition of crossing boundaries: Leipzig University was founded in 1409. In the course of its diverse history, it grew to encompass a wide selection of disciplines comprising almost all areas of knowledge. World-renowned scientists have taught or studied in Leipzig, and important impulses for the development of thought originated here. As a comprehensive university, the Alma Mater Lipsiensis covers the entire spectrum from natural sciences, law and medicine to a wide range of study programmes in the humanities and social sciences. Currently, close to 29,000 students are enrolled at the Universität Leipzig. The University is a place of international cooperation in research and teaching. Fostering an international profile forms a substantial part of the University's Mission Statement. The Faculty of Economics and Management Science is currently comprised of 29 university Chairs organized within 14 institutes who teach and work in a wide range of subjects in Management Science and Economics. About 2000 students take part in one of our programs. Interdisciplinary approaches and practically oriented courses are central to our course design. We offer three programs at the Bachelor level and five at the Master level in the fields of Management Science; Economics; Business Information Systems; Planning, Engineering and Management; Business Education and Management Training. Please visit us in our new faculty building in the Leipzig city center. While studying at our faculty, you are at the heart of our city - we have been part of the Leipzig's Augustusplatz campus since spring, 2009. Cultural venues, cafés, restaurants, shopping facilities and the city's main train station are all right in our neighborhood. You will love studying and living in Leipzig.
Undergraduate programs open to exchange students	Economics and Management Science; Business Information Systems; Business Education and Management Training; please note, that virtually all courses of the undergraduate programs are held in German language
Undergraduate programs NOT open to exchange students	N/A
Graduate programs open to exchange students	Management Science; Economics; Business Information Systems; Business Education and Management Training; please note, that only courses of the master-programme Economics are held in English language. Some graduate courses are not open to exchange students and some others may demand academic prerequisites.
Graduate programs NOT open to exchange students	N/A
Minimum GPA (UG)	None, but students must show strong academic commitment and performance.
Minimum GPA (G)	Same as above.
Minimum language proficiency (UG)	Students should be able to follow courses taught in either English and/or German. (Either German (CEFR B2 or more) or English (TOEFL iBT 75/IELTS 5.0-6.0) recommended)
Minimum language proficiency (G)	Students should be able to follow courses taught in either English and/or German. (Either German (CEFR B2 or more) or English (TOEFL iBT 75/IELTS 5.0-6.0) recommended)
Academic calendar	Winter term: Mid-October until beginning of February (+ exam time of up to 3 weeks); Summer term: Beginning of April until mid July (+ exam time of up to 3 weeks)
Important university websites for exchange students	https://www.uni-leipzig.de/en/international/exchange-students-at-leipzig-university/ and http://www.wifa.uni-leipzig.de/erasmus/start-int-programme.html
Scholarship information	-----
Dormitory information	The Studentenwerk Leipzig offers rooms in different student halls. Here you can find more information: http://www.studentenwerk-leipzig.de/en/housing